

Hirsh Health Sciences Library

June Newsletter

Happy June, TUSDM! Here's what's going on at Hirsh Health Sciences Library.

New Resources

Check out these brand new additions to our collection! (Links in attached PDF)

- (ebook) Bailey's Head and Neck Surgery: Otolaryngology
- (print book) Grant's Dissector, 18th ed.

Last Chance for Writing Consultations (for now!)

Whether you're getting started with a research proposal or polishing your personal statement, our writing consultant is a great resource! She will be on summer break starting June 9th, so don't miss your chance to book an appointment! For those of you who need a little more time, don't worry-- she'll be back in August!

Upcoming Workshops

These online workshops are free and open to the entire Tufts community. Visit our Open Workshops Calendar to learn more and register. And remember that you can always request a workshop on demand on topics like citation management, PubMed, or systematic reviews!

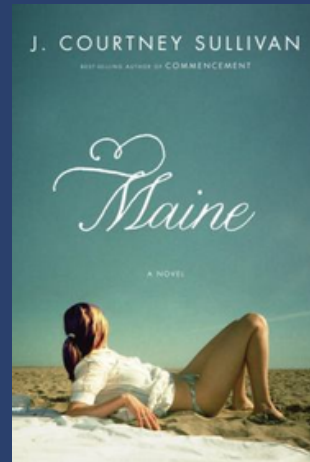

- Updated NIH Public Access Policy
Monday, June 2, 11 a.m. - 12 p.m.

Hirsh
HEALTH SCIENCES
Library

Questions? Let us know!

Email: hhs1@tufts.edu
Call: 617-636-6705
Text: 617-477-8439
Chat

Spotlight on Leisure Reading

Check it out!
From our leisure reading collection on the 4th floor.

Maine by J. Courtney Sullivan

Looking for more recommendations?
Check out our Beach Reads blog post!

Dental Liaison Office Hours

Every Tuesday the Dental Liaison Librarian, Hannah Ellingson, is around to answer all your library-related questions!

When? Tuesdays, 3-4 p.m.

Where? 4th floor of the library!

Research Corner

Each month we'll feature a recent, noteworthy research publication! This month's is:

Shinkai, R. S. A., De Lima Silva, I., Ortiz Rosa, E., & Biazevic, M. G. H. (2025). Citizen science in dentistry and community oral health. The Journal of the American Dental Association, 156(4), 309-319.e5.