The 50th Anniversary of
The White House Conference on FOOD, NUTRITION, AND HEALTH

October 3-4, 2019

Boston, Massachusetts

Tufts University
Gerald J. and Dorothy R. Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy

HARVARD
T.H. CHAN
SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH
Department of Nutrition
INTRODUCTION
Looking Back, Moving Forward

Thank you for joining us to celebrate the 50th Anniversary of the White House Conference on Food, Nutrition, and Health. The Tufts Friedman School of Nutrition Science & Policy and the Harvard TH Chan School Department of Nutrition are proud to be co-hosts and share our history with Dr. Jean Mayer, a professor at the Harvard School of Public Health when he chaired the 1969 Conference who went on to become the President of Tufts University where he founded the School of Nutrition.

In thinking about the 1969 White House Conference, there is much to celebrate, including the impressive bipartisanship, ambition, inclusivity, and productivity of the 1969 event. Approximately 3,000 attendees from all sectors and walks of life brought forth 1,800 recommendations for improving food programs, 1,600 of which were implemented. Many of the federal food programs we take for granted today were established or expanded after the conference, including the Food Stamp Program, the School Lunch Program, and the WIC program.

Today, 50 years after the 1969 Conference, our country faces a very different national nutrition crisis. Our health and economy are being devastated by rising rates of obesity, diabetes, and other diet-related chronic diseases, rising healthcare costs, continuing food insecurity, and rowing disparities. In addition, our food system is challenging the sustainability of our soil, waterways, climate, forests, and oceans. After 50 years, it is critical for our community of policy leaders, scientists, advocates, students, teachers, entrepreneurs, and citizens to come together and craft robust solutions to address the problems and opportunities we face.

Accordingly, this 50th Anniversary celebration brings together key sponsors and 40+ additional leading national advocacy and academic organizations in a larger partnership circle (see next page). We stand together to honor the 1969 Conference and, importantly, look ahead for shared solutions across schools, worksites, food assistance programs, health care, agriculture, business innovation, and the food environment. Importantly, we look forward to releasing a special joint report with policy recommendations for 2020 and beyond to create a healthier, more equitable, and more sustainable food system.

Thank you for joining us as we draw inspiration from the legacy of the 1969 White House conference and help build a new shared movement for further positive change.
The views expressed at this event do not necessarily reflect the views of our Conference Sponsors or Partners.
SCHEDULE

Thursday, October 3rd, 2019
Harvard TH Chan School of Public Health, Kresge Cafe

4:00PM - 4:10PM    Opening Remarks
                   • Dean Michelle Williams

4:10PM - 4:20PM    Overview of the White House Conference on Nutrition
                   • Frank Hu and Dariush Mozaffarian

4:20PM - 5:20PM    Keynote: The Lasting Influence of the White House Conference on Food, Nutrition, and Health
                   • Cathie Woteki

5:20PM - 6:30PM    Panel Discussion: Developing the Right Food and Nutrition Guidance for Our Plate and our Planet

PANEL
• Timothy Griffin
• Alice Lichtenstein
• Eric Rimm
• Walter Willett
• Cathie Woteki

MODERATOR
• Frank Hu

6:30PM - 7:00PM    Reception & Light Refreshments
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Session</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>7:30AM - 8:15AM</td>
<td>Registration</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:15AM - 8:20AM</td>
<td>Welcoming Remarks</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Walter Willett and Jerold Mande</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:20AM - 9:20AM</td>
<td>History of the 1969 White House Conference and Key Accomplishments: Video</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>PANEL</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Johanna Dwyer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Andre Mayer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Ron Pollack</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>MODERATOR</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Corby Kummer</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9:20AM - 10:00AM</td>
<td>Intro: The Current Landscape</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>FOOD JUSTICE</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Dottie Rosenbaum</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>DIET AND HEALTH</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Dean Dariush Mozaffarian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>SUSTAINABILITY</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Timothy Griffin</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10:00AM - 10:40AM</td>
<td>Actions for the Future: Health Systems and Food is Medicine</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>PANEL</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Howard Koh</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Secretary Kara Odom Walker</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Karen Pearl</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Darshak Sanghavi</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>MODERATOR</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>• Dean Dariush Mozaffarian</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
10:40 AM - 11:25 AM | Actions for the Future: The Food Environment
PANEL
- Sara Bleich
- Greg Drescher
- Christina Economos
- Marion Nestle
MODERATOR
- Norbert Wilson

11:25 AM - 12:00 PM | The Role of Foundations
SPEAKER
- Rajiv Shah
MODERATOR
- Alan Solomont

12:00 PM - 1:00 PM | Lunch: Clover Food Lab
Jaharis Café and Courtyard (MedEd 114 in case of rain)

1:10 PM - 2:00 PM | Actions for the Future: Government Feeding Programs
PANEL
- Laura Benavidez
- Secretary Dan Glickman
- Dottie Rosenbaum
- Marlene Schwartz
MODERATOR
- Parke Wilde

2:00 PM - 2:30 PM | A Perspective on the Future of the Food System
SPEAKER
- Representative Chellie Pingree
MODERATOR
- William Masters

2:30 PM - 2:45 PM | Break
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Event</th>
<th>Panel/People</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2:45 PM – 3:40 PM</td>
<td>Actions for the Future: Sustainability and Agriculture</td>
<td>PANEL&lt;br&gt;- Amanda Beal&lt;br&gt;- Amanda Little&lt;br&gt;- Britt Lundgren&lt;br&gt;- Samuel Myers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>MODERATOR&lt;br&gt;- Timothy Griffin</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3:40 PM – 4:45 PM</td>
<td>Business Case for Innovation in Health, Sustainability, and Equity</td>
<td>PANEL&lt;br&gt;- Helena Fruscio Altsman&lt;br&gt;- Kevin Boylan&lt;br&gt;- Denise Morrison&lt;br&gt;- Walter Robb&lt;br&gt;- Brooks Tingle</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>MODERATOR&lt;br&gt;- Laura Reiley</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4:45 PM – 5:15 PM</td>
<td>Addressing Poverty, Nutrition, and Health</td>
<td>SPEAKER&lt;br&gt;- Representative Rosa DeLauro</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>MODERATOR&lt;br&gt;- Dean Dariush Mozaffarian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5:15 PM – 5:30 PM</td>
<td>Closing Remarks</td>
<td>- Frank Hu and Dean Dariush Mozaffarian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5:30 PM – 6:30 PM</td>
<td>Reception</td>
<td>Jaharis Café and Courtyard (MedEd 114 in case of rain)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
HELENA FRUSCIO ALTSMAN
Assistant Secretary of Program and Performance Management for the Executive Office of Housing and Economic Development (EOHED), Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Helena Fruscio Altsman is the Assistant Secretary of Program and Performance Management for the EOHED for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Throughout her career, Helena has worked to develop new and pioneering methods of cultivating and growing economic ecosystems that support innovators, inventors, and creative individuals. She has been a policy advisor to governors of both parties, building off of her experience of leading the Berkshire Creative Economy Council to implement this work on the community level. A graduate of the Harvard Kennedy School of Government with a Masters Degree in Public Administration and an undergraduate degree in Fine Arts concentrating on arts and entrepreneurship, Helena has a track record of developing, advising, and executing programs that truly impact the communities in which they are implemented.

AMANDA BEAL
Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture, Conservation, and Forestry, Maine

Amanda Beal is the Commissioner of Maine’s Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry (DACF). Before joining DACF, Amanda was the President & CEO of Maine Farmland Trust, and prior to that worked for several years as a consultant on food systems-related projects for a number of fisheries, agriculture, and other food-focused organizations and businesses while also developing a business and generational transfer plan for her own family’s commercial dairy farm, which has guided the transfer of farm ownership from her father to her youngest brother. In addition, she was a co-author of the publication: “A New England Food Vision: Healthy Food for All, Sustainable Farming and Fishing, Thriving Communities.” Amanda holds an M.S. from Tufts University, having completed the Agriculture, Food & Environment program at the Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy, and is currently a Ph.D. candidate at the University of New Hampshire in the Natural Resources and Earth Systems Science program.
SARA BLEICH
Professor of Public Health Policy, Harvard TH Chan School of Public Health
Sara Bleich is a Professor of Public Health Policy at the Harvard Chan School of Public Health in the Department of Health Policy and Management. She is also the Carol K. Pforzheimer Professor at the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study and a member of the faculty at the Harvard Kennedy School of Government. Her research provides evidence to support policy alternatives for obesity prevention and control, particularly among vulnerable populations. A signature theme throughout her work is an interest in asking simple, meaningful questions about the complex problem of obesity which can fill important gaps in the literature. Sara is the past recipient of an award for excellence in public interest communication from the Frank Conference, among other awards. Sara was recently appointed as a White House Fellow (2015-2016) where she was a Senior Policy Advisor to the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the First Lady’s Let’s Move initiative. She holds degrees from Columbia (BA, Psychology) and Harvard (PhD, Health Policy).

LAURA BENAVIDEZ
Executive Director, Food and Nutrition Services at Boston Public Schools
Laura Benavidez is the Executive Director of Food and Nutrition Services for Boston Public Schools. She is responsible for the $38 million organization inclusive of all operations and logistics at over 120 locations, with more than 520 support and cafeteria staff combined. Laura’s experience includes 11 years in the LAUSD Food Services Division where she served as Interim-Co Director, Deputy Director and Senior Food Services Supervisor. Her eighteen-year career in the food services industry has equipped her with the knowledge of all aspects of business but also to focus on customer service and marketing and strategic planning. Over the years, she has been responsible for both logistics (menu, inventory, technology) and operations, managing supervisory teams over each area. Laura is committed to child nutrition and the continuation of a meal program in Boston that can one day be the number one program in the United States.
KEVIN BOYLAN
Co-Founder and Partner, Powerplant Ventures
Kevin Boylan was born and raised on Long Island where he developed an aversion to cold weather. This led to 4 years at Arizona State University graduating with a B.S. in Business promptly followed by a quick sprint to Los Angeles to join Drexel Burnham Lambert. After 10 years of high yield financing, he created Standard Capital Group where he spent 15 years advising small and middle-market companies before co-founding Veggie Grill which has grown to 35 locations, serving in excess of 1 million guests every 90 days, making it the largest plant-centric restaurant company in the United States. Forbes recently named Veggie Grill one of the “25 Most Innovative Consumer Brands”. Kevin is Co-Founder and Partner of PowerPlant Ventures, a venture capital fund, that is committed to helping re-architect our global food system by advancing world-changing companies that deliver better nutrition in more sustainable and ethical ways. Kevin serves on the advisory boards of The Good Food Institute, Tufts University Friedman School for Entrepreneurship, and UCLA School of Law Resnick Program for Food Law and Policy.

REPRESENTATIVE ROSA DELAUNO
U.S. House of Representatives, 3rd District of Connecticut
Rosa DeLauro is the Congresswoman from Connecticut’s Third Congressional District, which stretches from the Long Island Sound and New Haven, to the Naugatuck Valley and Waterbury. Rosa serves in the Democratic leadership as Co-Chair of the Democratic Steering and Policy Committee, and she is the Chair of the Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education Appropriations Subcommittee, where she oversees our nation’s investments in education, health, and employment. Rosa also serves on the subcommittee responsible for the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, where she oversees food and drug safety. Rosa belongs to 62 House caucus groups and is the co-chair of the Baby Caucus, the Long Island Sound Caucus, and the Food Safety Caucus. Soon after earning degrees from Marymount College and Columbia University, Rosa followed her parents’ footsteps into public service, serving as the first Executive Director of EMILY’s List, a national organization dedicated to increasing the number of women in elected office; Executive Director of Countdown ’87, the national campaign that successfully stopped U.S. military aid to the Nicaraguan Contras; and as Chief of Staff to U.S. Senator Christopher Dodd. In 1990, Rosa was elected to the House of Representatives, and she has served as the Congresswoman from Connecticut’s Third Congressional District ever since.
GREG DRESCHER
Vice President for Strategic Initiatives and Industry Leadership, Culinary Institute of America

Greg Drescher is vice president of strategic initiatives and industry leadership at The Culinary Institute of America (CIA), where he oversees the college’s leadership programs for the foodservice industry, including conferences, invitational leadership retreats, digital media, and strategic partnerships. Mr. Drescher is the creator of the college’s influential Worlds of Flavor International Conference & Festival, the annual Worlds of Healthy Flavors and Menus of Change leadership conferences (presented in partnership with the Harvard School of Public Health’s Department of Nutrition), the Healthy Menus R&D Collaborative, and numerous other CIA “think tank” initiatives. Before joining the CIA in 1995 as the director of education at the college’s Greystone campus in California’s Napa Valley, Mr. Drescher jointly spearheaded a multi-year collaboration of some of the world’s leading health experts and organizations—including the Harvard School of Public Health and the World Health Organization—in researching and authoring “The Mediterranean Diet Pyramid: A Cultural Model for Healthy Eating.” The cumulative results of this research were published in a special edition of the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition, creating a strong platform for much of the academic, public policy, and media interest in the Mediterranean diet that followed.

DR. JOHANNA DWYER
Professor, Tufts University Medical School; Director, Frances Stern Nutrition Center

Johanna Dwyer D.Sc., RD is Professor of Medicine (Nutrition) and Community Health at the Tufts University Medical School, and Adjunct Professor of Nutrition at Tufts University Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy. She is also Senior Scientist at the Jean Mayer/USDA Human Nutrition Research Center on Aging at Tufts University, and Senior Nutrition Scientist (contractor), Office of Dietary Supplements, Office of the Director, National Institutes of Health. She received her D.Sc and M.Sc from the Harvard School of Public Health, an MS from the University of Wisconsin, and a BS with distinction from Cornell University. She is the author or co-author of more than 350 research and 400 review articles and four books. Her major research interest is in flavonoids, population-based nutrition surveys, especially of children and the elderly, dietary supplement databases, fortification, and nutrition policy. Dr. Dwyer has served on many committees, including the 2000 Dietary Guidelines for Americans Committee. She is past president of both the Society for Nutrition Education and the ASN, and a member of the National Academy of Medicine, National Academy of Sciences.
SPEAKERS (ALPHABETICAL)

DR. CHRIS ECONOMOS
Professor and New Balance Chair in Childhood Nutrition, Tufts Friedman School; Co-Founder and Director, ChildObesity180

Christina Economos, PhD, is a Professor and the New Balance Chair in Childhood Nutrition at the Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy and Medical School at Tufts University. She is also the co-Founder and Director of ChildObesity180, where she develops, implements, evaluates, and scales high-impact obesity prevention initiatives. She led the Shape Up Somerville study demonstrating that it is possible to reduce excess weight gain in children through multiple leverage points within an entire community. Dr. Economos’ Live Well study was a preventive intervention developed with active input from community partners to moderate or reduce weight gain among new immigrant women and their children. In partnership with Save the Children, she led the CHANGE study, which was designed to improve physical activity and nutrition behaviors in rural communities. Dr. Economos has served on four Institute of Medicine committees including the Roundtable on Obesity Solutions and the Committee on an Evidence Framework for Obesity Prevention Decision-Making. In addition, she serves on the American Heart Association’s Nutrition Council on Lifestyle and Cardiometabolic Health. Dr. Economos received a Bachelor of Science from Boston University, a Master of Science in Applied Physiology and Nutrition from Columbia University and a doctorate in Nutritional Biochemistry from Tufts University.

SECRETARY DAN GLICKMAN
Vice President and Executive Director, Congressional Program, Aspen Institute

Dan Glickman is Vice President of the Aspen Institute and Executive Director of The Aspen Institute Congressional Program. He also serves as a Senior Fellow at the Bipartisan Policy Center where he is co-chair of its Democracy Project. Prior to joining the Aspen Institute, he served as U.S. Secretary of Agriculture in the Clinton administration. He was appointed by former Secretary of Agriculture, Tom Vilsack as the Chair of the newly created Foundation for Food and Agriculture Research, currently serving on their board. He also represented the 4th Congressional district of Kansas for 18 years in the U.S. House of Representatives, where he was very involved in federal farm policy on the House Agriculture Committee. He also served on the House Judiciary Committee, the House Science Committee, and as chairman of the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence. In addition, he is the former director of the Institute of Politics at Harvard University’s John F. Kennedy School of Government. He chairs the U.S. Global Leadership Coalition and is a member of the Boards of the World Food Program-USA, Food Research & Action Center and Issue One. He is also a longtime member of the Board of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. He received his Bachelor’s degree in history from the University of Michigan and his J.D. from George Washington University.
DR. TIMOTHY GRIFFIN
Associate Professor and Director of the Agriculture, Food and Environment Program, Tufts Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy
Dr. Timothy Griffin is the director of the Agriculture, Food and Environment program, as well as an associate professor at the Friedman School. His primary interests are the intersection of agriculture and the environment, and the development and implementation of sustainable production systems. His current research is focused on the environmental impacts of agriculture (nutrient flows, carbon retention and loss, and climate change), and impacts of policy on adoption of agricultural practices and systems.

DR. FRANK HU
Chair of the Department of Nutrition, Harvard TH Chan School of Public Health
Dr. Frank Hu is Chair of the Department of Nutrition, Fredrick J. Stare Professor of Nutrition and Epidemiology at Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health and Professor of Medicine, Harvard Medical School and Brigham and Women’s Hospital. Dr. Hu received the Kelly West Award for Outstanding Achievement in Epidemiology by the American Diabetes Association in 2010 and was named the American Heart Association’s Ancel Keys Memorial Lecturer in 2018. He is a member of the National Academy of Medicine and has served on the Institute of Medicine Committee on Preventing the Global Epidemic of Cardiovascular Disease, the AHA/ACC Obesity Guideline Expert Panel, and the 2015 Dietary.

DR. HOWARD KOH
Professor, Harvard TH Chan School of Public Health; former Assistant Secretary for Health, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
Dr. Howard K. Koh is the Harvey V. Fineberg Professor of the Practice of Public Health Leadership at the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health and the Harvard Kennedy School. He previously served as the 14th Assistant Secretary for Health for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (2009-2014) after being nominated by President Barack Obama, and as Commissioner of Public Health of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts (1997-2003) after being appointed by Governor William Weld. A graduate of Yale College and the Yale University School of Medicine, he trained at Boston City Hospital and Massachusetts General Hospital, earned board certifications in four medical fields, has been Principal Investigator of research grants totaling $24M, published more than 275 articles in the medical and public health literature and has received over 70 awards, including six honorary doctorate degrees.
Corby Kummer is the author of The Joy of Coffee and The Pleasures of Slow Food, the first book in English on the Slow Food movement. He has been restaurant critic of New York, Boston, and Atlanta Magazines and food and food policy columnist for The New Republic. He is a senior editor at The Atlantic, to which he has long contributed articles on food and food policy, and is the editor-in-chief of Ideas: The Magazine of the Aspen Institute. Every week he is a featured commentator on food and food policy on WGBH’s Boston Public Radio. He has received five James Beard Journalism Awards.

Dr. Lichtenstein’s research has focused on assessing the interplay between diet and cardiometabolic health, and her findings have contributed to current dietary recommendations on healthy eating patterns for the prevention of cardiovascular and other chronic diseases. Dr. Lichtenstein has served on and chaired the American Heart Association’s Nutrition Committee and American Society for Nutrition’s Public Policy committee, and served on the 2000 and 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans Advisory Committees. She currently serves on the Food and Nutrition Board in the Health and Medicine Division of the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, and previously served on the Board’s Panel on Macronutrients, Review of Dietary Reference Intakes for Sodium and Potassium, and Examination of Front-of-Package Nutrition Rating Systems and Symbols. Lichtenstein also serves as the executive editor of the Tufts University Health & Nutrition Letter. She has played a critical role in translating nutrition science into public health recommendations and policies.
SPEAKERS (ALPHABETICAL)

AMANDA LITTLE
Professor of Journalism, Vanderbilt University; Author of The Fate of Food: What We’ll Eat in a Bigger, Hotter, Smarter World

Amanda Little is a journalist writing about the environment and innovation. She is a professor of investigative journalism and science writing at Vanderbilt University, and has a particular fondness for far-flung and hard-to-stomach reporting that takes her to ultradeep oil rigs, down manholes, into sewage plants, and inside monsoon clouds. She is the author of The Fate of Food: What We’ll Eat in a Bigger, Hotter, Smarter World (Random House: Crown/Harmony), which explores how we’ll feed humanity sustainably and equitably in the climate change era. She also wrote Power Trip: The Story of America’s Love Affair With Energy (HarperCollins). Amanda has published her writing in the New York Times Magazine, Vanity Fair, Rolling Stone, Wired, New York Magazine, Bloomberg Businessweek, NewYorker.com and elsewhere. A former columnist for Outside magazine and Grist.org, she is a recipient of the Jane Bagley Lehman Award for excellence in environmental journalism. Little has interviewed figures ranging from Barack Obama and Hillary Clinton to John McCain and Lindsey Graham, and has appeared on MSNBC, Fox News, and National Public Radio. A graduate of Brown University, she serves on the Board of Trustees at Fisk University in Nashville, Tennessee, where she lives with her husband and kids.

BRITT LUNDGREN
Director of Organic and Sustainable Agriculture, Stonyfield

Britt Lundgren is the Director of Organic and Sustainable Agriculture at Stonyfield, an organic yogurt company based in Londonderry, NH. She has over a decade of experience working to advance agricultural sustainability through policy and supply chain initiatives. Prior to Stonyfield, Britt was an agricultural policy specialist for Environmental Defense Fund in Washington, D.C. She holds a Master of Science in Agriculture, Food, and Environment from Tufts University. Britt serves on the boards of the Organic Trade Association and the Sustainable Food Lab, and as an advisor to the AGree, the Foundation for Food and Agriculture, Food Policy Action, and the New Hampshire Conservation Law Foundation. She has worked on several organic farms, and is an avid fiddle player.
JEROLD MANDE
Professor of the Practice, Tufts Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy
Jerold Mande is Professor of the Practice, Friedman School of Nutrition, and a Senior Fellow, Tisch College of Civic Life, at Tufts University. Mande is leading an initiative on advocacy, food policy change, and public health impact. Mande has served in several high-level government positions, including as Deputy Under Secretary for Food Safety at USDA, Senior Advisor to the Commissioner at FDA, Senior Policy Advisor at the White House, and Deputy Assistant Secretary at OSHA. Mande also served as Associate Director for Public Policy at the Yale Cancer Center. Mande began his career as Legislative Assistant for Al Gore in the US House and Senate. Mr. Mande earned a master’s degree in public health from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and an undergraduate degree in nutritional sciences from the University of Connecticut. He also completed the program for senior government managers at the John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University. Among his achievements is the Presidential Award for Design Excellence for his work on the Nutrition Facts food label.

DR. WILLIAM MASTERS
Professor of Economics, Tufts Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy
Will Masters is a Professor in the Friedman School, with a secondary appointment in Tufts University’s Department of Economics. His research uses economic methods to inform and improve the food system, especially in developing countries. From 2011 to 2014 he served as chair of the Friedman School’s Department of Food and Nutrition Policy, and before coming to Tufts was a faculty member in Agricultural Economics at Purdue University (1991-2010), and also at the University of Zimbabwe (1989-90), Harvard’s Kennedy School of Government (2000) and Columbia University (2003-04). He is the co-author of an undergraduate textbook, Economics of Agricultural Development: World Food Systems and Resource Use (Routledge, 3rd ed. 2014). From 2006 through 2011 he edited Agricultural Economics, the journal of the International Association of Agricultural Economists. In 2010 he was named an International Fellow of the African Association of Agricultural Economists, and he has been awarded both the Bruce Gardner Memorial Prize for Applied Policy Analysis (2013) and the Publication of Enduring Quality Award (2014) from the Agricultural and Applied Economics Association (AAEA).
ANDRÉ MAYER
Son of Dr. Jean Mayer, student intern during 1969 White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health

André Mayer has held positions in the field of education and workforce development policy, including director of planning for the Massachusetts public higher education system, senior vice president at Associated Industries of Massachusetts, and president of the New England Economic Partnership. Educated at Harvard and Berkeley, he has published books, articles, and reviews in a range of fields, including historical scholarship, agriculture, and detective fiction.

DENISE MORRISON
Retired President & CEO at The Campbell Soup Company

Denise M. Morrison is the Founder of Denise Morrison & Associates, LLC, a Consulting Firm and is a Senior Advisor for PSP Partners. She served as President and Chief Executive Officer of The Campbell Soup Company from 2011-2018. Prior to joining Campbell, Ms. Morrison held executive management positions at Kraft Foods, Inc. She started her career with Procter & Gamble and held various positions with PepsiCo and Nestle before joining Kraft/Nabisco. Ms. Morrison is currently a Director on the Boards of Visa, Inc., MetLife Inc., and Quest Diagnostics. She served as a Director of The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. from 2005-2010. She is a member of the Board of Trustees for Boston College, the Advisory Council for Just Capital, the Advisory Board for Tufts Friedman School and is a member of The Business Council. Ms. Morrison served on President Trump’s Manufacturing Jobs Initiative as well as President Obama’s Export Council. She has been a leader in the Food Industry accelerating the Purpose of “Real Food that Matters for Life’s Moments” with a focus on making Real Food affordable and accessible to all families for better health and wellbeing. She has also been an advocate of Healthy Communities starting with Campbell’s headquarter city of Camden, N.J. She was named to Fortune’s Most Powerful Women’s List from 2012-2018. She graduated Magna Cum Laude from the University of Boston College in 1975 and received an Honorary Doctorate from St. Peter’s University in 2018. On a personal note, she resides in Marco Island, Florida and summers in Cape Cod, Massachusetts with her husband Tom. She has two daughters and four grandchildren.
SPEAKERS (ALPHABETICAL)

DR. DARIUSH MOZAFFARIAN
Dean and Jean Mayer Professor, Tufts Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy

Dr. Dariush Mozaffarian is a cardiologist, Dean and Jean Mayer Professor at the Tufts Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy, and Professor of Medicine at Tufts Medical School. Dr. Mozaffarian has authored nearly 400 scientific publications on dietary priorities for obesity, diabetes, and cardiovascular diseases, and on evidence-based policy approaches to reduce these burdens in the US and globally. He has served in numerous advisory roles including for the US and Canadian governments, American Heart Association, World Health Organization, and United Nations. In 2016, Thomson Reuters named him as one of the World’s Most Influential Scientific Minds.

DR. SAMUEL MYERS
Principal research scientist, Harvard TH Chan School of Public Health and Director, Planetary Health Alliance

Samuel Myers, MD, MPH studies the human health impacts of accelerating disruptions to Earth’s natural systems, a field recently dubbed Planetary Health. He is a Principal Research Scientist at the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health and is Director of the Planetary Health Alliance (www.planetaryhealthalliance.org). Sam’s research includes quantifying changes in the nutrient content of staple food crops as a result of rising concentrations of atmospheric CO2, the impacts of global declines in pollinating insects on human health, the impacts of climate shocks on food trade and nutritional outcomes, and the health impacts of biomass fires in SE Asia. As the Director of the Planetary Health Alliance, Sam oversees a consortium of over 230 institutions in 48 countries focused on growing the field of planetary health. Dr. Myers serves as a Commissioner on the Lancet-Rockefeller Foundation Commission on Planetary Health, the Lancet Commission on Arctic Health, and a member of the Lead Expert Group of the Global Panel on Agriculture, Food Systems, and Nutrition. He was the inaugural recipient of the Arrell Global Food Innovation Award in 2018. He has also been awarded the Prince Albert II of Monaco—Institut Pasteur Award for research at the interface of global environmental change and human health. He is editing a first text book on planetary health with Howard Frumkin entitled Planetary Health: Protecting Nature to Protect Ourselves.
DR. MARION NESTLE
Paulette Goddard Professor of Nutrition, Food Studies, and Public Health, Emerita, at New York University

Marion Nestle is the Paulette Goddard Professor of Nutrition, Food Studies, and Public Health, Emerita, at New York University, in the department she chaired from 1988 to 2003. She also holds appointments in NYU’s Sociology Department and in the Division of Nutritional Sciences at Cornell. She earned a doctorate in Molecular Biology and an MPH in Public Health Nutrition, both from UC Berkeley. She held previous positions at Brandeis University, UCSF School of Medicine, and the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion where she edited the 1988 Surgeon General’s Report on Nutrition and Health. She is the author of several prize-winning books, among them Food Politics (2002), Safe Food (2003), What to Eat (2006), Why Calories Count (2012), Eat, Drink, Vote (2013), and Soda Politics (2015). She also has authored or co-authored two books about pet food. From 2008 to 2013, she wrote a monthly Food Matters column for the San Francisco Chronicle. She blogs almost daily at www.foodpolitics.com, and her Twitter account, emarionnestle, has been ranked by Science Magazine, Time Magazine, and The Guardian as among the top ten in health and science. Her most recent book is Unsavory Truth: How Food Companies Skew the Science of What We Eat (2018).

SECRETARY KARA ODOM WALKER
Secretary, Delaware Department of Health and Human Services

Dr. Kara Odom Walker was sworn in as Secretary of the Delaware Department of Health and Services on Feb. 6, 2017. As Secretary, she leads the principal agency charged with keeping Delawareans healthy, ensuring they get the health care they need in a fast-changing world, and providing children, families and seniors with essential social services including food benefits, disability-related services, and mental health and addiction treatment. As Secretary, Dr. Walker chairs the Health Fund Advisory Council, and is a member of the Delaware Health Care Commission and the Delaware Center for Health Innovation Board. Secretary Walker previously worked as the Deputy Chief Science Officer at the Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Institute (PCORI), a nonprofit, nongovernment organization in Washington that is authorized by Congress to improve evidence available to help patients, caregivers, employers, insurers and policymakers make informed health care decisions. She is a board-certified practicing family physician and is a Fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians. She was elected to the National Academy of Medicine (NAM) in 2018.
KAREN PEARL
President and CEO, God’s Love We Deliver

Karen Pearl has been President & CEO of God’s Love We Deliver since 2006. God’s Love provides medically tailored meals and medical nutrition therapy to people living with severe and chronic illnesses. During her tenure, the services at God’s Love have almost tripled, with nearly 2 million meals cooked and home-delivered each year, and the number of volunteers reaching more than 15,000 annually. Karen was previously Interim President of Planned Parenthood Federation of America and resident & CEO of Planned Parenthood of Nassau County.

REPRESENTATIVE CHELLIE PINGREE
U.S. House of Representatives, 1st District of Maine

Chellie Pingree represents the First District of Maine in the U.S. House of Representatives. She is a member of the Appropriations Committee, serving on three subcommittees: Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration; Interior, Environment; and Military Construction, Veterans Administration. In addition, this year she rejoined the House Agriculture Committee. Chellie is an advocate for reforming federal policy to better support the diverse range of American agriculture—including sustainable, organic, and locally focused farming.

RON POLLACK
Formerly the Founding Executive Director, now Chair Emeritus, of Families USA

For more than three decades, Ron Pollack was the Founding Executive Director, and is now the Chair Emeritus, of Families USA, the national organization for health care consumers. Families USA’s mission is to achieve high-quality, affordable health coverage and care for everyone in the U.S. Pollack played a leading role in promoting the passage of the Affordable Care Act, and President Obama inscribed on the top of that law: “To Ron and Families USA -You made this happen!” Pollack and Families USA also played a leading role in securing the passage and extension of the Children’s Health Insurance Program (CHIP). Pollack was the Founder and Board Chair of Enroll America, the national collaborative leader that promoted optimal health coverage enrollment for uninsured people seeking insurance through the Affordable Care Act. The Hill named Mr. Pollack one of the nine top nonprofit lobbyists. Modern Healthcare named Mr. Pollack one of the 100 Most Powerful People in Health Care. National Journal named him one of the top 25 players in Congress, the Administration, and the lobbying community on Medicare prescription drug benefits. In 1997, Pollack was appointed by President Clinton as the sole consumer representative on the Presidential Advisory Commission on Consumer Protection and Quality in the Health Care Industry. In that capacity, he helped prepare the patients’ bill of rights that has been enacted by many state legislatures. Prior to his position at Families USA, Mr. Pollack was the Dean of the Antioch University School of Law (1980-1983).
LAURA REILEY
Business of Food Reporter, The Washington Post

Laura Reiley is an award-winning food writer, restaurant critic and author. She is currently the business of food reporter at the Washington Post, and she was previously a food critic at the Tampa Bay Times, San Francisco Chronicle and Baltimore Sun. She has been named a James Beard finalist twice, and in 2017 she was a Pulitzer finalist on the strength of an investigative series she did called “Farm to Fable” about the fraudulent claims of locavore restaurants and markets. She has authored four books and has cooked professionally. Since coming to the Post, she has avidly followed the alt-protein revolution, food policy issues in Washington and the effects of climate change on agriculture. Laura received degrees from the University of Virginia, in English, and from the California Culinary Academy. She and her husband, Jonathan Rottenberg, a clinical psychology professor, have an adult daughter studying public health at Johns Hopkins University.

DR. ERIC RIMM
Professor of Epidemiology, Harvard TH Chan School of Public Health

Dr. Eric Rimm, ScD, is Professor of Epidemiology at the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health, and Professor of Medicine at the Harvard Medical School. He is internationally recognized for his extensive work in the study of diet and chronic disease. He also studies local and national nutrition policy as it impacts the diets of individuals on federal nutrition assistance programs. He serves on the National Academy of Sciences advisory committee for the USDA’s Economic Research Service and previously served on the scientific advisory committee for the 2010 US Dietary Guidelines for Americans. He has published 750+ peer-reviewed publications while on the faculty at Harvard and has received several awards for his work including the American Society for Nutrition Innovation Award.

WALTER ROBB
Former Co-CEO, Whole Foods

An investor, mentor and advisor to the next generation of American food companies, former co-CEO of Whole Foods Market Walter Robb has a long and varied entrepreneurial history, ranging from natural food retailer to farmer to consultant. Robb joined Whole Foods Market in 1991 and in 2010 was named co-CEO along with John Mackey, at which time he joined the Whole Foods Market Board of Directors. In 2017, Robb transitioned his leadership focus to mentoring and supporting the next generation of entrepreneurs through the creation of Stonewall Robb Advisors. He is a passionate advocate for greater food access in underserved communities, serving as Chairman of the Board for Whole Kids Foundation and Whole Cities Foundation. Robb is an Executive in Residence at S2G Ventures and serves on the Board of Directors for Union Square Hospitality Group, The Container Store, FoodMaven, HeatGenie, Aphria, and Apeel Sciences.
DOBBIE ROSENBAUM
Senior Fellow, Center on Budget and Policy Priorities

Dottie Rosenbaum is a Senior Fellow at the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, a nonpartisan research and policy institute that pursues federal and state policies designed to reduce poverty and inequality and to restore fiscal responsibility in equitable and effective ways. In her nearly 20 years at the Center her work has focused on federal and state issues in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (formerly known as food stamps), as well as on issues that involve the coordination of SNAP and other state-administered health and income security programs, such as Medicaid, TANF, WIC, and child care. In addition, Rosenbaum has expertise on the federal budget and Congressional budget process. Before joining the Center, Rosenbaum was a budget analyst at the Congressional Budget Office, where she projected federal spending and provided Congress with cost estimates for a variety of programs including: SNAP, Medicaid, Child Nutrition, and Elementary and Secondary Education. She has a BA from Haverford College and a Masters degree in Public Policy from Harvard University’s Kennedy School of Government.

DR. DARSHAK SANGHAVI
Chief Medical Officer of UnitedHealthcare, Medicare & Retirement

Darshak Sanghavi, MD, is the Chief Medical Officer of UnitedHealthcare’s Medicare & Retirement business, the largest commercial Medicare program in the country. Most recently, he was Chief Medical Officer at OptumLabs, overseeing a diverse portfolio of innovation-directed projects addressing national health priorities including the opioid crisis, health care affordability, artificial intelligence strategies in health, chronic medical conditions such as dementia and diabetes, and numerous other collaborative programs with an extended stakeholder team spanning over 100 projects. Earlier, he was a member of the Obama administration, as the Director of Preventive and Population Health at the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation, where he oversaw the development of large pilot programs aimed at improving the nation’s health care costs and quality. In this capacity, he was the architect of numerous initiatives, including the $157 million Accountable Health Communities model, the 3 million-member Million Hearts Cardiovascular Risk Reduction model, and the $1 billion Medicare Diabetes Prevention Program. Dr. Sanghavi was formerly a fellow and a managing director of the Brookings Institution in Washington D.C. (where the post-World War II Marshall plan was developed), where he directed efforts to better engage clinicians in health care payment and delivery reform. He is also an associate professor of pediatrics and the former chief of pediatric cardiology at the University of Massachusetts Medical School, directing clinical and research programs dedicated to children’s heart defects, where he still sees patients.
DR. MARLENE SCHWARTZ
Director, UConn Rudd Center for Food Policy and Obesity

Dr. Marlene Schwartz is a Professor of Human Development and Family Sciences and the Director of the Rudd Center for Food Policy and Obesity at the University of Connecticut. During her career, she has studied the potential of nutrition and wellness policies to improve diet quality and health equity, especially among children and low-income families. Her research has taken place in multiple settings, including child care, schools, food banks and food pantries. Dr. Schwartz earned her BA from Haverford College and her PhD in Psychology from Yale University. Prior to joining the Rudd Center, she served as Co-Director of the Yale Center for Eating and Weight Disorders from 1996 to 2006. Dr. Schwartz has published over 100 scientific papers and has received research grants from government agencies and health foundations, including the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, the United States Department of Agriculture, and the National Institutes of Health. She has presented her work at national and international meetings, including ones convened by the National Academy of Medicine, the White House, the Centers for Disease Control, and the Academy of Medical Sciences in the UK. Dr. Schwartz received the Sarah Samuels Award from the Food and Nutrition Section of the American Public Health Association.

DR. RAJIV SHAH
President, Rockefeller Foundation

Dr. Shah brings over twenty years of experience in business, government, and philanthropy to the Rockefeller Foundation. Appointed as USAID Administrator by President Obama in 2009, and unanimously confirmed by the Senate, Dr. Shah was charged with reshaping the $20 billion agency’s operations to provide greater assistance to pressing development challenges around the globe. When Dr. Shah left USAID in 2015, he continued to follow his passion for creating opportunities for communities to thrive in the developing world by founding Latitude Capital, a private equity firm focused on power and infrastructure projects in Africa and Asia. He was also appointed a Distinguished Fellow in Residence at Georgetown University. Raised outside of Detroit, Michigan, Dr. Shah is a graduate of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, and the Wharton School of Business. Prior to his appointment at USAID, Shah served as Chief Scientist and Undersecretary for Research, Education and Economics at the United States Department of Agriculture. He also served in a number of leadership roles at the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, where he helped launch the Alliance for a Green Revolution in Africa (a joint venture by the Gates and Rockefeller foundations) and the International Financing Facility for Immunization (credited with raising more than $5 billion for childhood immunizations worldwide) and where he supported the creation of the Global Development Program. He and his wife, Shivam Mallick Shah have three children.
ALAN SOLOMONT
Dean, Jonathan M. Tisch College of Civic Life, Tufts University

Alan Solomont currently serves as the Dean of the Jonathan M. Tisch College of Civic Life at Tufts University. The only university-wide college of its kind, Tisch College studies and promotes the civic and political engagement of young people at Tufts University, in our communities, and in our democracy. Tisch College is the leading authority on youth voting in this country. In addition, Tisch College recently launched the nation’s first major in Civic Studies on any university campus, as well as an innovative first-semester of service and civic engagement for incoming students called the Tufts Civic Semester. Alan’s career has been marked by his commitment to political activism, public service and organizing for the greater good. He was appointed by President Obama to serve as the U.S. Ambassador to Spain and Andorra from 2009-2013. Alan is the former Chairman of the Corporation for National and Community Service. He was first appointed to the board by President Clinton in 2000, reappointed by President George W. Bush in 2007 and elected chair in 2009. He also served as the National Finance Chair of the Democratic National Committee. Alan is a dedicated Tufts Jumbo, with experience in the roles of student, Instructor, Tufts parent, Trustee & Board Chair.

BROOKS TINGLE
President and CEO, John Hancock Life Insurance

Brooks Tingle has responsibility for and provides strategic leadership of John Hancock’s insurance businesses. In his former role leading marketing and strategy at John Hancock, Brooks Tingle has driven the modernization of the company’s marketing function focusing on innovations to enhance the relevance and attractiveness of insurance products to today’s consumers. Previously, Tingle served as Senior Vice President and Chief Operations Officer for John Hancock Life Insurance Company and was responsible for all operations including new business, underwriting, claims, information technology, policy administration, customer service, and reinsurance administration.
DR. PARKE WILDE
Professor, Tufts Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy
Parke Wilde is a professor at the Friedman School. His general research focus is on U.S. food and nutrition policy, consumer economics and federal food assistance programs. Current and past research includes a Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Healthy Incentive Pilot (HIP); the geography of local food retail, federal commodity checkoff programs, and food and beverage marketing to children. You can read more about his work at his blog, U.S. Food Policy. He is the author of the textbook, Food Policy in the United States: An Introduction, Second Edition (Routledge, 2018).

DR. WALTER WILLETT
Professor of Epidemiology and Nutrition, Harvard TH Chan School of Public Health
Dr. Walter Willett is Professor of Epidemiology and Nutrition at the Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health and Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School. He served as Chair of the Department of Nutrition at Harvard for 25 years. His work has focused on development of methods, using both questionnaire and biochemical approaches, to study the effects of diet on the occurrence of major diseases. He has applied these methods to large cohort studies, including nearly 300,000 men and women, that are providing the most detailed information on the long-term health consequences of diets. Dr. Willett has published over 1,900 articles, primarily on lifestyle risk factors for cardiometabolic disease and cancer, and has written the textbook, Nutritional Epidemiology.

DR. MICHELLE WILLIAMS
Dean of the Faculty, Harvard TH Chan School of Public Health
Dr. Michelle A. Williams is Dean of the Faculty, Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health, and Angelopoulos Professor in Public Health and International Development, a joint faculty appointment at the Harvard Chan School and Harvard Kennedy School. She is an internationally renowned epidemiologist and public health scientist, an award-winning educator, and a widely recognized academic leader. Prior to becoming Dean, she was Professor and Chair of the Department of Epidemiology at the Harvard Chan School and Program Leader of the Population Health and Health Disparities Research Programs at Harvard’s Clinical and Translational Sciences Center. Her scientific work places special emphasis in the areas of reproductive, perinatal, pediatric, and molecular epidemiology. Dean Williams has published over 450 scientific articles. She was elected to the National Academy of Medicine in 2016. The Dean has a master’s in civil engineering from Tufts University and master’s and doctoral degrees in epidemiology from the Harvard Chan School.
DR. NORBERT WILSON
Professor, Tufts Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy

Norbert Wilson is a Professor of Food Policy at the Friedman School of Nutrition Science and Policy. His research touches on a number of food issues of such as access, choice, and food waste. He continues to work on food safety and quality issues in international trade and domestic food systems. Additionally, his work is moving to explore equity in food access and health. He loves good coffee and has published analysis of coffee quality and prices. Norbert has published in AEA Papers and Proceedings, World Development, American Journal of Agricultural Economics, Journal of Public Health, Food Policy, Agricultural Economics, among others. Prior to the Friedman School, Norbert was a professor of agricultural economics at Auburn University (1999-2016). He was an economist/policy analyst in the Trade Directorate (2004-2006) and in the Agriculture Directorate (2001-2002) of the Organization of Economic Development and Cooperation (OECD) in Paris, France. In 2014-2015, Norbert was on sabbatical leave at the Dyson School of Applied Economics and Management at Cornell University. Norbert earned his doctorate in 1999 in Agricultural and Resource Economics from the University of California, Davis. He earned his MSc. in Agricultural Economics from Wye College, University of London, UK in 1994. He was a Rotary International Fellow while in the UK. In 1993, Norbert earned a BSA in Agricultural Economics from the University of Georgia.

DR. CATHERINE WOTEKI
Professor of Food Science and Human Nutrition at Iowa State University

Dr. Catherine Woteki is Professor of Food Science and Human Nutrition at Iowa State University. From 2010-2016, she served as Chief Scientist and Under Secretary for USDA’s Research, Education, and Economics (REE) mission area. In that role, she developed the office of the Chief Scientist, established the USDA Science Council, and instituted the Department’s first scientific integrity and open data policies. She was called upon to lead scientific delegations to China and the first meeting of the Agricultural Chief Scientists held under the auspices of the G-20. Dr. Woteki is an advocate for building the platforms needed to enhance domestic and international food and agricultural research. Prior to joining USDA, Dr. Woteki served as Global Director of Scientific and Regulatory Affairs for Mars, Incorporated, where she managed the company’s scientific policy on matters of health, nutrition, and food safety. From 2002-2005, she was Dean of Agriculture and Professor of Human Nutrition at Iowa State University, and also head of the Agricultural Experiment Station. Dr. Woteki served as the first Under Secretary for Food Safety at the USDA from 1997-2001 where she oversaw the safety of meat, poultry and egg products.
PHOTO-12/24/69—WASHINGTON: Dr. Jean Mayer, left, who headed the White House Conference on Nutrition, and Hunger, presents the three-volume report on the conference to President Johnson at the White House 12/24. Dr. Mayer told newsmen a program to furnish free and reduced-price lunches would be extended to benefit approximately 6.6 million needy children in the fiscal year. (UPI) TELEPHONE grg/fc