Internal funding

1. Developing a Human-Animal Interaction-Based Modification of the Social Participation and Navigation (SPAN) Program for Adolescents with Social Anxiety. Tufts Springboard grant. Co-Principal Investigator. Dr. Megan Mueller, Co-Principal Investigator, Tufts Cummings School of Veterinary Medicine (2020-2021).
2. Development and evaluation of an animal handler training event to promote OT student engagement and education on animal-assisted interventions Tufts Institute on Human-Animal Interaction Student Scholars Program Awardees, Nicole Porter and Kaitlyn Irwin; Faculty Mentor. (2020-2021)
3. Adaptation and Usability of Social Participation and Navigation (SPAN) for Adolescent Speakers with Dysarthria, Tufts Clinical and Translational Science Institute (CTSI) Pilot Study Award (Grant # NIH913). Co-Principal Investigator. Dr. Kathryn Connaghan, Principal Investigator, Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders, Northeastern University (2018-2019).
4. Further development and testing of a mobile app to promote social participation of youth with traumatic brain injury. Tufts Faculty Research Award Committee (FRAC) grant. Principal Investigator (2017 - 2018).
5. Assistive Technology Innovations. Tufts Innovates Grant. Creating an interdisciplinary course and Maker studio to facilitate collaborative client-centered team problem solving to design and test assistive devices for persons with disabilities. Principal Investigator. Co-investigators from Occupational Therapy (Jennifer Buxton, Amy Fleischer) and Mechanical/Human Factors Engineering (Gary Leisk, Daniel Hannon) (2016-2017).
6. Validating the Child and Adolescent Scale of Participation (CASP) for use in population-based research with children and youth with Traumatic Brain Injury. Tufts University, Faculty Research Award Committee (FRAC) Grant-in-Aid. Principal investigator (2012 - 2013).
7. Examining interventions and factors associated with social participation and quality of life of children and youth with disabilities: Cross-disciplinary research and perspectives. Tufts University Bernstein Faculty Fellows Award. Dr. Donald Wertlieb (Tufts, Senior faculty mentor). (2005 - 2007).
8. Measuring Diabetes Management, Participation and Quality of Life at School for Children with Type 1 Diabetes. Developing and pilot-testing the measures and procedures to be used in the research proposed in the Bernstein Faculty Fellows Award. Tufts University Summer FRAC award. Principal investigator (Summer 2006).
9. School nurses' perceptions of their performance of diabetes management at school: A pilot study. Co-Principal investigator. Conducted with Elisabeth Schainker, MD, Floating Hospital for Children, Tufts New England Medical Center. Conducted as part of Tufts University Bernstein Faculty Fellows Award (2005).

10. Integrating e-technology into three levels of graduate occupational therapy educational programs. Tufts University Academic Technology Faculty Grant Award (A Partnership in Technology [APT] Grant; Project Co-Director. Conducted with Project Co-Directors Ms. Mary Evenson and Dr. Andrea Sherwin (2005 – 2007).
11. The Child and Adolescent Scale of Participation: Further testing and development. Tufts University, Faculty Research Award Committee (FRAC). Principal Investigator (2004 - 2005).
12. Factors that influence team collaboration on an early intervention team. New York University School of Education Research Challenge Fund. Co-Principal Investigator. Dr. Jim Hinojosa, Principal Investigator (1996- 1997).

APPROVED, NOT FUNDED

National Institutes of Health (R21) grant application (Chronic Illness Self-Management in Children PA- 03-159). Elisabeth Schainker, MD, Floating Hospital for Children, Tufts Medical Center, Proposal co-author and listed as Principal investigator (submitted February, 2006; Not funded).
 12. Proposal co-author and listed as Co-investigator. Impacts of the built environment on obesity risk via a natural experiment: The Big Dig and the Rose Kennedy Greenway. Department of Health and Human Services – National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (RFA-ES-04-003). Christina Economos, Ph.D., Principal Investigator (Submitted 2004; Not funded.).
 13. Listed as measurement project consultant. Innovative Technologies for Pediatric Critical Care and Rehabilitation. National Institute of Child Health and Human Development. Small Business Technology Transfer Program (Phase 1). Dr. Gillian Holz, University of Miami School of Medicine, Principal Investigator, Brookes Publishing (small business). (Submitted 2003; Not funded).
 14. Proposal co-author and listed as Co-Principal investigator. Participation in home, work and community life. Programs for persons with HIV/AIDS across the continuum of care. U.S. Department of Education-National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research. Field-initiated research grant. David Vandergoot, Ph.D, Center for Essential Management Services, NY, listed as principal investigator. (Submitted 2003, Not funded).
 15. Proposal co-author and listed as Co-Principal investigator. Consumers' perceptions about processes and outcomes of rehabilitation across the continuum of care. The Roybal Center for Enhancement of Late-life Function at Boston University, Sargent College [National Institute on Aging – funded center.] Dr. Mary Slavin, Boston University, lead proposal author and listed as principal investigator (Submitted 2002, Not funded).

OUTCOME MEASUREMENT DEVELOPMENT (Development of my own authored or co-authored measures and/or providing assistance to the development of measures created or authored by students, colleagues and/or previous post-doctoral research mentors)

- Initial development of the Social Participation and Self-Management Assessments (youth and parent versions) for use in the Social Participation And Navigation (SPAN) intervention study (# H133G130272). I was Co-PI (2014-2017).
- Initial development and preliminary testing of the Social Participation Observation Tool (SPOT) (Developed by Tufts graduate student Jennifer Iassogna, MS, OTR/L*). I was thesis advisor (2012-2013).
- Development and psychometric testing of the Group Leadership Self Assessment (GLSA) (Developed by Mary Barnes, MS, OTR/L, Occupational Therapy Doctoral [OTD] student*). I am doctoral committee member and supervising psychometric testing. (2012-present)
- Assisted with development and coauthor of a youth / young adult version of the Participation and Environment Measure for Children and Youth (PEM-CY) [Dana Anaby, Ph.D., OT, McGill University, lead developer] (2013 – present).
- Assisted with development and coauthor of the Young Child’s Participation and Environment Measure (YC-PEM) [Dr. Mary Khetani, primary developer and author]. (2012 – present). <https://www.canchild.ca/en/resources/223-young-children-s-participation-and-environment-measure-ycpem>
- Provided feedback to Helen Bourke Taylor, Ph.D., Monash University, Victoria, Australia to adapt school participation and environment items and response scales from the Participation and Environment Measure for Children and Youth (PEM-CY) to be answered by school-aged children, teachers and parents for her study: “The successful school inclusion of students with cerebral palsy in school communities” (2013).
- Development and coauthor of the Participation and Environment Measure for Children and Youth (PEM-CY). [National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research Grant # H133G070140]. I was Co-PI. Currently translated or being translated into multiple languages and used internationally. (2007-2010). <https://www.canchild.ca/en/resources/248-participation-and-environment-measure-for-children-and-youth-pem-cy>
- Measurement and content expert. Reviewer of a pilot draft of the Pediatric Evaluation of Disability Inventory, Version two (2008).
- Development of child, parent, school and clinic measures focused on self-management, participation, and quality of life at school for children with Type I Diabetes. [Tufts University Summer FRAC grant; I was PI; Deborah Munroe Noonan Memorial Fund, Bank of America, Trustee, I was Co-PI]. (2006 – 2008).
- Consultant and Reviewer, School Quality of Life Questionnaire, Naomi Weintraub, Ph.D., OTR, Deputy Chair, School of Occupational Therapy of Hadassah and the Hebrew University (2006).
- Expert panel member for the “Preliminary Screening Tool for Identification of Students with Acquired Brain Injury” (Pre-school – 12th grade students). Pat Sample, Ph.D., Principal Investigator, Colorado State University, Department of Occupational Therapy (2005).
- Ongoing development of the Child and Family Follow-up Survey (CFFS), Child and Adolescent Scale of Participation (CASP), Child and Adolescent Scale of Environment (CASE), and Child and Adolescent Factors Inventory (CAFI) (2001-present). Funding provided by the Deborah Munroe Noonan Memorial Fund, Bank of America, Trustee, and Tufts University Faculty Research Award Committee (FRAC). I am PI. Currently translated or being translated into multiple languages and used internationally. <http://sites.tufts.edu/garybedell/measurement-tools/>

- Developed measures of health and daily life management for persons with HIV/AIDS for the NIDRR-funded field-initiated grant focused on Work transition for persons with HIV/AIDS [Grant # H133G000195]. I was Co-PI (2000-2003).
- Assisted with development of the Functioning After Brain Injury (FABI) measure, an activity performance and participation readiness measure for pediatric brain injury inpatient rehabilitation. I conducted classical psychometric and Rasch analyses and examined responsiveness to change as part of my NIDRR-funded post-doctoral research at Boston University. Funding was provided by the National Institutes of Child Health and Development, Small Business Innovation Research Phase 1 and 2 Grants HD36569-01 & 02 awarded to Kevin Smith, New England Research Institutes, Principal Investigator and Stephen Haley, Ph.D., Co-principal investigator, Boston University. (2000-2001).
- Assisted with development of the Activity Measure-Post Acute Care (AM-PAC) and the Late-Life Function and Disability Instrument (LL-FDI) as part of my NIDRR-funded post-doctoral at the Rehabilitation Research Training Center for Measuring Rehabilitation Outcomes at Boston University - Sargent College of Health and Rehabilitation Sciences. Funded by the U.S. Department of Education - National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research (Grant # H133P99005) and awarded to Drs. Alan Jette and Stephen Haley (2000).

POST-DOCTORAL COURSEWORK

- Rasch Measurement Workshop, multiple instructors (2001). University of Illinois-Chicago (sponsored by the Institute of Objective Measurement).

MEASUREMENT CONSULTATION (to be updated)

Consultation with the following colleagues who have used or are currently using my measures: The Child and Adolescent Scale of Participation (CASP), Child and Adolescent Scale of Environment (CASE), Child and Adolescent Factors Inventory (CAFI), or Child and Family Follow-up Survey (CFFS). <http://sites.tufts.edu/garybedell/measurement-tools/>

1. Fred Rivara, MD, MPH, George Atkins Professor of Pediatrics, University of Washington School of Medicine, Division Head, General Pediatrics, Founding director of the Harborview Injury Prevention and Research Center. The CASP was used in a multi-site longitudinal study, "Disability from pediatric Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI)," funded by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (9/1/06 – 8/31/11; Grant # R49CE001021-02).
2. Keith Owen Yeates, Ph.D., Professor in the Departments of Pediatrics, Psychology, and Psychiatry at Ohio State University, Chief of the Department of Psychology at Columbus Children's Hospital. The CASP was used in a cross-sectional study, "Social outcomes in pediatric Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI)," funded by the National Institute of Child Health & Human Development (4/1/06 – 3/31/11; Grant # R01-HD489646). (Now at the University of Calgary, Calgary, CAN)
3. Vicki Anderson, Ph.D, Professor, University of Melbourne, Director, Psychology, Royal Children's Hospital, Melbourne, Australia. The CASP was used in a longitudinal study, "Prevention and treatment of social problems following Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI)," funded by the Victorian Neurotrauma Initiative (2007 – 2011).
4. Arend de Kloet, Ph.D., Psychologist and Lecturer, Sophia Rehabilitation and The Hague University, The Hague, Netherlands. The CFFS was translated into Dutch and modified for an outcomes study.*
5. Helen Badge, Project Officer, Community Outcomes and Transitional Living Projects, Brain Injury Rehabilitation Directorate, Liverpool Hospital, New South Wales, Australia. The CASP and other measures used for children with TBI were examined for clinical utility and responsiveness to change over three points in time.
6. Randy Garber, Director, JDC-Middle East Program, Jerusalem and Israeli-Palestinian Pediatric Rehabilitation Forum. The CASP and CASE were used to evaluate the effectiveness of interventions to remediate participation barriers to kindergarten and first grade children with cerebral palsy across cultures (Israeli and Palestinian communities).
7. Janette McDougall, Ph.D., Research Scientist, Thames Valley Children's Centre, East London, Ontario. The CASP, CASE, and CAFI are being used in a longitudinal study, "The impact of personal, interpersonal, and environmental factors on changes in quality of life for youth with chronic conditions,” funded by the Canadian Institutes of Health Research.

8. Ann Glang, Ph.D., and Bonnie Todis, Ph.D., The Teaching Research Institute, Western Oregon University (described above as well). The CASP and CASE were used in the study, TBI Transition Systems (T-BITS): Improving the Hospital-School Transition of Children with Traumatic Brain Injury (U.S. Department of Education-National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research. Disability and Rehabilitation Research Project. Grant #H133A060075). (Now at the University of Oregon).
9. Roberta DePompeii, Chair and Professor, Speech and Language Therapy & Audiology, University of Akron. The CFFS was used in two studies conducted during 2005 to 2007. One study was funded by the National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research (grant #H133A030810). The second study was funded by the Health Resources and Services Administration via the State of Ohio Rehabilitation Services Commission (grant #H82MC03674-01-00).*
10. Jean Dise Lewis, Ph.D., Associate Professor, University of Colorado Health Sciences Center, Director of Psychology, The Children’s Hospital, Denver. The CASP was used in a study, “An investigation of outcomes associated with Pediatric TBI,” funded by the Centers for Disease Control and conducted in 2004 – 2007.
11. Juliet Haarbauer-Krupa, Ph.D., MA, CCC, Research Scientist, Children's Healthcare of Atlanta. The CASP was used to investigate the outcomes of children who are graduates of a day rehabilitation program. (Now Senior Research Scientist, Traumatic Brain Injury Team, Division of Unintentional Injury Prevention, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention).
12. Jane Galvin, MS, OT, Senior occupational therapist, Royal Children’s Hospital, Melbourne, Australia. The CFFS was used in a study to monitor rehabilitation outcomes of children and youth with acquired brain injury.
13. Margie Rae, OT, Senior occupational therapist, Royal Children’s Hospital, Brisbane, Australia. The CASP was used to assess rehabilitation outcomes of children and youth with acquired brain injury.
14. Fiona Adcock, Head of Community Support Team for children with Acquired Brain Injury, The Children’s Trust, Tadworth, United Kingdom. This community-based program used the CFFS as an outcome monitoring tool.
15. Sandra Chapman Ph.D., University of Texas, Dallas, Dee Wyly Distinguished Chair in Brain Health, Professor of Behavioral and Brain Sciences, Professor, Chief Director, Center for Brain Health. The CASP was piloted for use in a social cognition study of youth with TBI.
16. Ron Savage, Ed.D., Executive Vice President, North American Brain Injury Society, International expert, advocate, and consultant. The CASP was used as an intervention planning tool in community based programs serving children and youth with TBI.
17. Naomi Weintraub, Ph.D., OTR, Deputy Chair, School of Occupational Therapy of Hadassah and the Hebrew University. The CFFS has been used in studies of children with developmental disabilities and chronic illness.

18. Rebecca Wells, MA, Queens University, Department of Psychology, Kingston, Ontario, Canada. The CFFS was used in Ms. Wells Masters thesis research focused on children with TBI.
19. Gretchen Ward, Iva Ah-Hing, Wendy Chiu, Anna-Marie Choi, Elizabeth Eskenasi, Joanna Gaines, Cindy Mullen, Columbia University, Programs in Occupational Therapy, NY. These graduate occupational therapy students used the CASP to examine the participation of children with Autism Spectrum Disorders (two additional groups of graduate students in this same program have used the CASP to replicate this initial study).
20. Annette Majnemer OT, PhD, FCAHS, Professor, McGill University, Montreal, Canada. The CASP was used in a study: "Determinants of active involvement in leisure for youth".
21. Ai-Wen Hwang, Ph.D., OT, Hua-Fang (Lily), Liao, MS, PT, Lin-Ju (Lydia) Kang, PT, PhD, and Wei-Chang Chen, MS, OTR*. Researchers in Taiwan who have translated the CFFS into Traditional Chinese and are using it along with other measures in a large study to examine disability in school-age children.
22. Jin-Shei Lai, Ph.D., OTR/L, Medical Social Sciences, Northwestern University, Chicago, IL. Used in R0 1 NIH (NCI) grant as an outcome measure of participation for children who undergo cancer treatment.
23. Miriam Beauchamp, Ph.D., University of Montreal; Katia Sirois, Ph.D., University of Laval, Quebec. The CASP translated into French & used in a study, "Development of a social cognition battery to assess adolescents with Traumatic Brain Injuries." Fonds de recherche Sante' Quebec (FRSQ) [Health Research in Quebec].
24. Tiina Lautamo, Ph.D., JAMK University of Applied Sciences, School of Health and Social Studies. Jyväskylä, Finland. CASP translated into Finnish for use in studies with children.
25. Arend de Kloet, Ph.D.– Modifying the Social Participation And Navigation (SPAN) program for the Netherlands (2017).
26. Additional colleagues (to be completed)

MENTORED RESEARCH

Post-doctoral fellowships

1. Liron Lamash, Ph.D., OT. Conducted two studies related to participation and environmental factors that support or hinder participation of adolescents with Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD). One study used secondary analyses from data she collected using the Participation and Environment Measure for Children and Youth (PEM-CY) – Hebrew version. The second study involved modification and feasibility testing of the Social Participation And Navigation (SPAN): an app-based coaching intervention for use with adolescents with ASD (2017-2018).
2. Anat Golos, Ph.D., OT. Conducted two studies that examined psychometric properties of the Child and Adolescent Scale of Participation (CASP) over a three-year period based on prior data from the longitudinal study: "Disability from pediatric Traumatic Brain Injury" (Centers for Disease Control and Prevention grant # R49CE001021-02) (2014-2016).
