Congratulations!

You and your child successfully completed the 1517-CL-1003 Study! We sincerely appreciate all of the time and effort your family has given to this important research.

A public record of the 1517-CL-1003 Study can be found on the Astellas Clinical Trials Website. The study results will be posted on the website when they become available. Please scan the QR code above for more information.

When a research study is completed the results may be summarized and published for the public as “Plain Language Summaries.” These study summaries are written so they are easier to understand. To find clinical research study summaries for Astellas studies, as well as other study sponsors, visit www.trialssummaries.com.

Thank you, again, for participating in this study and for contributing to medicine and science.

Sincerely,
The 1517-CL-1003 Research Team
