Literacy & the Arts is a summer writing program for elementary school aged children. This year, we are offering two 2-week sessions: July 7 to July 18 and July 21 to August 1.

Our program combines focused, one-on-one tutoring with project based learning. If your child will benefit from focused tutoring in either reading or math, please contact Dr. Krug at Cynthia.Krug@tufts.edu to learn more about our plan for this summer.

Regardless of their tutoring needs, all children in the camp work on projects. Does your child love building elaborate structures that make things move? Creating a Rube Goldberg machine and explaining how it works may be the perfect project for her! Or perhaps your camper prefers art. This can be an opportunity to learn about an extraordinary new artist and try out new eye-popping ways to use color.

Literacy & the Arts afternoons are simply fun. An energetic crew of Tufts athletes, scientists, drama leaders and artists are on hand to play with your children. They engage them in sports on the Tufts fields and entertain them with hilarious drama games. When days are hot, the children swim in a local pool or build robots in our well stocked "maker-space." With a wide range of choices, their afternoons are relaxed, but engaging. What better way to spend the not so lazy days of summer?

Registration: $100 nonrefundable deposit. Full tuition due before May 31, 2025. Tuition assistance is available.
